AMERICAN HARVEST

RURAL RETAILER WELCOMES LOCALS AND TOURISTS ALIKE

THE PLACE

American Harvest, a Wenatchee Valley cannabis retailer in Peshastin offers tourists and locals from the area a warm and welcoming place to peruse an assortment of cannabis products. Kelani Mirau and her family thought about the setting when designing American Harvest: they opted to design the shop with an abundance of open space, not unlike a comfy barn, where locally-grown goodies are happily sold. The boutique-style, farm-to-table ambiance in the shop fits perfectly with Central Washington's agriculture traditions, especially in a place known for the state's highest apple production. The shop sits right outside Leavenworth, a popular Bavarian village where polka parties and oompah music never stop. So, if you're visiting Leavenworth this fall or happen to be celebrating the annual tradition of Oktoberfest stop by American Harvest and see what this quaint Peshastin store has to offer.
